Dear Michael Friedman,

I am very concerned that our foods are currently not labeled after they have been genetically engineered. This is disturbing to me because, as a consumer, I obviously want to know what I'm eating, and I believe every person should have that right.

I am opposed to genetically engineered food for the following reasons:

1) These products have not been fully tested for their long-term

~~effects~~ effects on humans

and/or other organisms. The potential for causing cancer and/or the gene passing to other organisms does exist & hasn't been disproven.

2) genetic engineering won't work - as pests become more resistant to these methods their effectiveness will decline.

3) By promoting the survival of one species at the expense of others, biotechnology represents a threat to diversity

Please label G.E. products!

Sincerely,

Laurel Hernandez C6045
